

TOP 250 SPAS

in the U.S., Canada, Central America, the Caribbean, and at Sea

THE VOTES ARE IN!

This year, our annual Spa Poll turns 21. And like any newly minted adult, it is wiser (and larger) than it was in infancy. Case in point: What began as a humble top three in 1990, with the high scorer earning a respectable 81.2, has transformed into a robust collection of 250, with the top-rated spa tipping the scales at 98.8. The winners on the following pages range from a tiny two-room enclave at St. Lucia's Jade Mountain to the 100,000-square-foot behemoth Canyon Ranch in Lenox, Massachusetts. However, what hasn't changed over these past 21 years is the lofty standards to which our readers hold each candidate. Thankfully, quality is ageless.

A MAN'S WORLD

The male is no longer new to the spa game. In fact, Americans spent $4.8 billion on men's grooming products in 2009 alone. But lately, spas have upped the ante, courting more and more XY guests with guy-centric treatments. Some options for the testosterone team:

- ◆ Kohler Waters Spa, at the American Club, Wisconsin: An entire section of Kohler's menu is dedicated to the pampering of men. Treatments include the Gentleman's Bath, a vigorous exfoliation followed by a relaxing bath ($120-$140), the hydrotherapeutic Aquatonic for Him ($155), and a Scalp Revival Treatment ($75). A cadre of therapies specifically targets golfers, including the Golfer's Massage, to soothe those torquing muscles ($143-$208), and the Golfer's Foot Renewal, which consists of an algae-rich pedicure mask ($92).
- ◆ Canyon Ranch: All three spas—Tucson, Lenox, and the newest in Miami Beach—have a 50-minute Gentlemen's Facial that focuses on relieving skin irritation due to razor burn ($130-$150) and an 80-minute version at the Miami spa with an anti-aging vitamin C peel ($240). Manly mani-pedis use guy-friendly ingredients like sandalwood, mustard seed, eucalyptus, and thyme (manicures, $45-$60; pedicures, $75).

METHODOLOGY

Condé Nast Traveler's 2011 Spa Poll results were derived from our 2010 Readers' Choice Survey, whose questionnaire was available through a secure Web site. Tabulation of the survey's 25,916 responses was done by Global Market Insight, Inc., of Marlborough, Massachusetts. Spas were rated excellent, very good, good, fair, or poor on three criteria: Spa Facilities, Spa Staff, and Spa Treatments. Those criterion scores, representing the percentage of respondents who rated a spa excellent or very good, were averaged to determine the final rating for the spa. A minimum number of responses was required for inclusion in these rankings.

THE SCIENCE OF SLEEP

Recent research has shown that substantial sleep deprivation impairs cognitive performance even more than drinking alcohol does, so catching some z's is crucial. Thankfully, these top-rated spas are here to help. Below, a selection of slumber-inducing therapies:

◆ Miraval, Tucson: The 75-minute Outdoor Sweet Slumber includes the application of a calming lavender scrub and body spray, followed by a comforting body wrap and scalp massage ($195). Miraval also runs Yoga Nidra (Yogic Sleep) classes to promote rest techniques.

◆ Mayflower Inn & Spa, Washington, Connecticut: Guests are asked to complete a Sleep Diary prior to attending the 45-minute Sleep Well session, which provides tools for reducing sleep disturbances and getting the most out of your shut-eye time ($90).

◆ Qua Baths & Spa, Caesars, Las Vegas: If the countless pools and trickling waters of Qua aren't doze-inducing enough, the 110-minute Sleep Health treatment—which combines an aromatherapy massage and hypnosis—should do the trick ($280).

◆ Ritz-Carlton, Naples, Florida: Billed as a "journey," the 110-minute Drift to Sleep includes a body scrub, a milk or lavender bath, a massage, and guided meditation culminating in a 20-minute nap ($250-$295).

UNDER THE SEA

Incorporating marine life into spa treatments has long been in vogue. But no one has gone quite as far as Voya in utilizing the sea's therapeutic qualities. Its products consist of organic seaweed hand-harvested from the west coast of Ireland. Replicating a traditional Irish seaweed bath in your very own tub has never been easier (voya.ie).

PAMPER WITH PRINCIPLES

Taking a cue from the recent surge in eco-friendly practices, many spas are doing their part for conservation by using sustainable local ingredients:

- ◆ Four Seasons Resort Costa Rica at Peninsula Papagayo: Locally sourced, freshly ground organic coffee beans are employed to exfoliate skin, increasing circulation and reducing the appearance of cellulite (the holy grail). The 60-minute treatment ends with an application of a fragrant coffee moisturizer ($145).

- ◆ Regent Palms, Turks and Caicos: Utilizing one of the coastline's most abundant resources, the 30-minute Mother of Pearl Body Exfoliation includes a scrub using hand-crushed local conch shells ($85).

BRING THE SPA HOME

Spain's Natura Bissé Honey Scrub turns into a luxurious oil upon contact with skin (naturabisse.com; $105).

FACEBOOK FACIAL

Your social networking skills are now the key to rejuvenation—and savings. Many spas have embraced social media as a way to post exclusive limited-time offers, allow users to instantly make or cancel appointments, and interact with their guests. Here's a sampling of recent deals available only via Facebook and Twitter:

- ◆ Enchantment Resort, Sedona: The best tweet in its Twitter-only Mother's Day essay contest earned a two-day package at the resort's Mii Amo spa.
- ◆ Montage Laguna Beach, Laguna Beach, California: Facebook followers got a $75 discount on a 60-minute massage, facial, or body treatment.
- ◆ Mandarin Oriental, Miami: Mentioning Facebook when making an appointment for an 80-minute massage earned guests a free scrub.
- ◆ Mandarin Oriental, New York: In a promotion exclusive to the hotel's Facebook and Twitter pages, bringing a friend got guests $50 off any treatment.
